ROOSEVELT WILL NOT RUN

HUGHES AND FAIRBANKS ARE NOMINATED

THIRD PARTY CHIEF CHOSEN FOR RACE BY ACCLAMATION

Governor Johnson of California Leads Radicals, Who Cast Die for Battle at Polls

AUDITORIUM, Chicago, June 10.—Colonel Roosevelt sent the following reply to the Progressives' nomination for the presidency:

"To the Progressive Convention:
"I am very grateful to the honor you confer upon me by nominating me as President. I cannot accept it at this time. I do not know the attitude of the candidate of the Republican party toward the vital questions of the day."

CHICAGO, June 10.—At the very moment when it was flashed to the Progressive convention that Hughes had been nominated at the Coliseum as the standard-bearer of the Republican party, Chairman Robins of the Progressive convention was announcing that Colonel Roosevelt had been unanimously nominated as the Progressives' leader, the convention went wild and there was no way to inform the delegates what had transpired at the Coliseum.

For several minutes Chairman Robins vainly rapped for order. Five minutes passed before order was restored and James A. Garfield of Ohio, without telling the delegates that Hughes had been named at the Coliseum, asked for a recess to 3 p. m. after singing one verse of "America."

"No, no!" yelled the delegates, but Chairman Robins said the time asked for was necessary, and finally the delegates yielded and began to file out at 12:42, to return again at 3 p. m.

OPPOSED BY COLONEL.
The nomination came in the face of the Colonel's own recommendation that the Progressives and Republicans unite on Senator Lodge. Bedlam broke loose in the auditorium as Chairman Robins suspended the rules, made the nomination by acclamation and announced the result all within a minute.

To the very last instant George W. Perkins fought for a compromise between Governor Johnson of California, seconded the nominating speech for the Colonel after Bainbridge Colby, of New York had made the nominating speech.

Anxious to nominate before the Republicans had nominated Hughes, Governor Johnson and Colby urged haste and spoke but a few minutes. They were foretold about, however, while awaiting word from the Republican convention, so that they did not nominate until 12:33, two minutes after Hughes was nominated by the Republicans in the Coliseum.

JOHNSON INSISTENT.
Governor Johnson, declared, after recess that he and other leaders would communicate with Colonel Roosevelt during the recess and insist on a definite statement as to whether he would accept.

"I insist," the governor said, "that these delegates should be advised before the convention adjourns, just what the Progressive party intends to do. I am very positive in my conviction that they should not be held in suspense in this critical time."

Governor Johnson prevailed upon Captain John M. Parker of Louisiana this afternoon to accept the Progressive nomination for vice-president.

ROOSEVELT SILENT.
OSTLER BAY, N. L., June 10.—When informed that the Republicans had nominated Justice Hughes and that the Progressives had nominated him, Colonel Roosevelt refused to make any comment.

He remained secluded in his Sagamore Hill home.

It is confidently believed here, however, that Colonel Roosevelt will accept the nomination. His friends looked for a statement from him to this effect later in the day.

Colonel Roosevelt had sent a message to the Progressives early today.

Cruiser Derfflinger Sunk, Say Travelers
LONDON, June 10.—The report that the German battle cruiser Derfflinger has been sunk is reiterated in an Amsterdam despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. It says travelers arriving in Amsterdam from Berlin say they were told that the Derfflinger had been sunk after the North Sea battle while being towed to Wilhelmshaven.

Old Cunard Liner
Aided in Sea Fight
LONDON, June 10.—One of the ships engaged in the North Sea battle was the old Cunard liner Campania, which acted as a hospital ship. When the cruiser Warrior was hard pressed, the Campania pushed herself between the German ships to the aid of the Warrior. She threw a hawser aboard and towed the Warrior for ten hours, when the cruiser sank. The Campania was thus the means of saving the crew of the Warrior.

ROOSEVELT IS RELUCTANT TO ENTER FIGHT

Progressive Leaders Waiting for Definite Statement From Oyster Bay.

AUDITORIUM, CHICAGO, June 10.—Captain John M. Parker of Louisiana was nominated by the Progressives this afternoon for Vice-President, the running mate of Theodore Roosevelt on the Bull Moose ticket.

Parker's nomination, as was Roosevelt's, was unanimous and made by acclamation under suspension of the rules. He was the only candidate, Governor Hiram Johnson of California, who was the Progressive vice-presidential candidate in 1912, having declined the nomination.

AUDITORIUM, CHICAGO, June 10.—Leaders of the Progressive convention said before the 3 o'clock session they had heard from Colonel Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and that while he did not flatly refuse the Progressive nomination he indicated reluctance to divide the opposition to the Democrats.

Colonel Roosevelt, it was understood, took the position that if he finally found it inadvisable to run, the national Progressive committee would be compelled to fill the vacancy on the ticket. It was understood the Colonel said he would give careful consideration to the nomination and all reports on the situation.

The message from Colonel Roosevelt did not specifically ask the Progressive convention to reconsider its action in nominating him. It was authoritatively stated, but merely put it up to the convention. Leaders were asked whether the message would require further action by the convention.

"I don't know," one prominent leader said.

Roosevelt's message, sent to George W. Perkins, Governor Hiram Johnson and others in conference at Progressive headquarters this afternoon, said that for the present he would hold in abeyance his decision as to accepting the Progressive nomination. The Colonel was preparing a statement to be read later at the convention.

That no attempt would be made to force an equivocal statement from the Colonel was stated by Henry J. Allen of Kansas.

William Allen White also said no further move would be made to force a definite statement from Colonel Roosevelt at this time.

British Steamship Flees War-old Trap

COPENHAGEN, June 10.—The British steamer Dunrobin succeeded today in passing through The Sound on the way to England. She had been lying in the Swedish port of Lulea, 1000 miles north of The Sound, since the beginning of the war, and presumably started on her journey immediately after the battle in the North sea.

The Dunrobin was chased by twenty armed German trawlers, but the Swedish torpedo boat destroyer Castor, in command of Prince William, suddenly appeared and convoyed her safely through the narrow waters.

Newspapers here commenting on the Dunrobin's escape, say it is apparent German destroyers are not patrolling the Baltic.

Lay Roanoke Blame to Poor Stowing

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Improper manner of stowing freight on board the steamer Roanoke and the fact that her storage tanks were only half filled with fuel oil, thus lessening her stability, were the causes leading to the wrecking of the vessel, according to a report made by Inspector James Guthrie and James Dolan today. The Roanoke went to the bottom May 9, seventy miles from San Francisco with the loss of forty-four lives, including all of the officers. There were only three survivors.

HUGHES RESIGNS PLACE ON BENCH Nominee of Republican Party Issues Statement Giving His Principles

WASHINGTON, June 10, 3:30 p. m.—Supreme Court Justice Hughes this afternoon sent his resignation by messenger to President Wilson. It follows:

"To the President:
"I hereby resign the office of associate justice of the supreme court of the United States.

"I am, sir, respectfully yours,

(Signed) "CHARLES EVEN HUGHES."

The President sent this reply to Justice Hughes' letter:
"Dear Mr. Justice Hughes: I am in receipt of your letter of resignation and feel constrained to yield to your desire. I therefore accept your resignation as Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to take effect at once.

"Sincerely yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

The letter was sent to Justice Hughes by messenger. Justice Hughes late today sent the following telegram to Chair-

SUPREME JUSTICE CHOSEN ON THIRD BALLOT BY G.O.P.

Overwhelming Vote Made Unanimous by Delegates in Tremendous Outburst

COLISEUM, Chicago, June 10.—Charles Evans Hughes was chosen the Republican standard-bearer by the Republican National Convention this afternoon on the third ballot. His vote was 949½ out of a possible 987 ballots.

The nomination was made unanimous on motion of Alexander Moore of Pennsylvania and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

Colonel Roosevelt, his nearest competitor for the honor, polled only 18½ votes.

Dupont received five, Weeks three, La Follette three and Lodge seven votes. One delegate was absent. Before the roll-call had covered half the States, Hughes had the necessary 494. New Jersey's vote touched the mark.

Illinois was the first of the States to withdraw her "favorite son" in Hughes' interest. Others clambered aboard the band wagon in a regular scramble as soon as the convention met.

California was called fourth and started the flood to Hughes by casting her full twenty-six votes for the New Yorker.

Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indiana was nominated for vice-president.

Compromise Plan Fails

Selection of Justice Hughes came after Colonel Roosevelt had made a last-hour attempt to swing a compromise candidate for both his own Bull Moose party and the G. O. P. in the person of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. It was perfectly apparent that the Republican delegates proposed to run their own steam roller over the Colonel's aspirations this year.

Selection of the "silent man" of present-day American politics was celebrated by the usual convention uproar and parade of the state standards. There was brief but roof-raising bits of applause and then everybody stood and talked and handclapped their enthusiasm.

California, with its state banner, led the parade of the States through the hall. Hughes' nomination on an early ballot was indicated as early as midnight, when Senator Sherman withdrew and asked that his fifty-eight delegates vote for the supreme court justice. Ohio next swung in line and then just before the convention, Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and others.

Senator Weeks, the only favorite son actually on the ground here, formally withdrew shortly after the convention met, appearing on the platform to declare he "wore no political scars" from his unsuccessful fight for the presidency.

Hughes Is Notified

"Big Steve" Stevenson, other "Angel Archie," national committeeman from Colorado and from the first day of the convention a staunch Roosevelt supporter, interrupted the ballot to announce on behalf of all the Roosevelt delegates that they considered themselves released from such a vote because of the Colonel's letter to the Progressives.

Immediately on the conclusion of the ballot Chairman Warren G. Harding despatched the following wire of congratulation to the nominee of the convention:

"Hon. Charles E. Hughes, Washington, D. C.

"With deliberation and enthusiasm under circumstances which could not have been more complimentary and with unanimity never excelled in past conventions you have been nominated by the Republicans of the nation as our candidate for president of the United States by our countrymen. Voicing the sentiments of the convention over which I have presided by the courtesy of my fellow delegates, I congratulate you and the country upon the outcome of this convention.

(Signed) "WARREN G. HARDING, Chairman."

Choice Made Unanimous

Alexander Moore of Pittsburg, Pa., arose after announcement of the vote for presidential nominee.

"I fought to the last ditch for the man I believed was the best choice," he said, "but I now ask that the nomination be made unanimous."

Senator Lodge was the next to make similar motion.

"The convention has chosen a strong, able, upright man, and a thorough American," he said. "He should receive the support of every man. It is an honor and pleasure to second Mr. Hughes' nomination."

The motion was carried with such a thunderous chorus of "ayes" that the chairman announced, "There are no noes."

Massachusetts voted 32 of her 36 votes for Hughes, Governor McCall arising to explain that while the delegates appreciated the fitness of Senator Lodge, suggested by Roosevelt, they nevertheless felt the spirit of the convention was for Hughes. Governor Willis of Ohio concurred in withdrawing Burton's name.

For Vice-President

Hughes' name was given a great, but not a long continued demonstration and then the convention got down to nomination of a vice-president.

When Harding announced the next order of business was the selection of a running mate, there was a chorus of shouts for Fairbanks, Borah and others. The roll-call then proceeded.

Every State passed down to Colorado, which yielded to Pennsylvania.

John Wanamaker of Philadelphia was introduced as spokesman for the keystone State. He nominated Charles W. Fairbanks.

"As a business man, having acquaintance with him, his systematic plans of work, his Republicanism and his height—the convention being composed of tall men—I think he is the logical Wanamaker said.

"Speaking for the business men of the convention, I believe course will be favorable and will give us the greatest victory we

HUGHES AT LUNCHEON TOLD NEWS

Writes Reply to Be Sent to Chicago; Is Congratulated

Receives Word Without Show of Emotion; Wilson Told

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Justice Hughes was told of his nomination for the presidency by newspapermen at his home where he had been at work all day during the Republican convention on delegates to be handed down Monday, probably his last day as a justice of the Supreme Court. He received the news without evident emotion, saying:

"I have nothing to say at this time, but will make a statement later in the day."

TO ISSUE STATEMENT.

Justice Hughes' secretary announced that a written statement would be issued at 3 o'clock.

The news came while Justice Hughes was eating lunch with Mrs. Hughes and their two daughters, Miss Katherine and Miss Elizabeth.

The justice at once responded to the request to be received by newspapermen. "Now, gentlemen," said he after he had thanked them for their congratulations. "All I know about this is what you tell me but if you are interested you may return at 3 o'clock when I probably will have a statement for you."

WRITES REPLY.

Within fifteen minutes a telegram came from Senator Harding, chairman of the convention formally announcing the nomination. Justice Hughes began writing a reply which will be sent to Chicago immediately.

Word that Justice Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt had been nominated by the two conventions in Chicago was communicated to President Wilson immediately upon its receipt here. There was no formal comment but administration supporters were obviously delighted.

Representative Mann, the Republican leader, announced the nomination of Hughes amid lusty cheering from the handful of Republicans on the floor. Representative Harrison of Mississippi followed with an announcement of Roosevelt's nomination.

Washington realized for the first time today that Justice Hughes has a real smile.

When he was informed of his nomination by the Republicans he seemed to throw off the judicial bearing, without losing a whit of his dignity.

RECEIVES NEWS.

He beamed at the reporters who had been permitted to remain in his secretary's office at his home when they clamored for a statement. He called them "boys" and shook hands cordially as he used to shake when he was a plain citizen or when governor of New York.

He admitted in an aside to one of the old newspapermen that "he hadn't seen as much of the newspaper boys as he wanted to come to Washington."

Justice Hughes received news today in his study, the sunny room at one end of his oblong house, which has its 160-foot side on Sixteenth street and its 20-foot front on V street. Despite this V-street frontage, by the way, Justice Hughes obtained special permission from the postmaster-general to number his house the twentieth street, a street, when his buildings are compared with those on Sixteenth street, isn't much for class.

Immediately after the result of balloting was known, Hughes shut himself up in his study with his secretary, Lawrence Green, to dictate a reply to Senator Harding's notification telegram and to prepare a statement for the press.

CROWDS BLOCK STREET.

Before going to his study for this work, however, he found time to go to the dining room on the third floor where his wife and daughters awaited him.

Sixteenth and V streets was the busiest locality in Washington this afternoon, was a mecca for scores of newspapermen, a dozen photographers.

Taxicabs in which newspapermen hurried to the Hughes home blocked V street and street and other automobiles occupied by persons anxious to get a glimpse of Justice Hughes virtually obstructed east and west traffic. The crowd assembled outside the door attracted the attention of others, either aloof or in vehicles.

Representative Mann, Republican, said: "It is a great day for the country. The office of president is seeking the man, not the man the office. In the greatest crisis of the world's history, America should put forward its best, as the ablest man, to fill the office of president. This opinion has controlled the Republican convention. He has not desired the office and has not striven to obtain it, but as a patriot he must yield to the opinion that he is the best fitted to take the office in these strenuous times. His broadness of intelligent vision and his firm determination to uphold the best principles of American liberty and the highest citizenship make it certain that when elected, the safety of America itself will be assured under his administration."

German Artillery Is Paving Way to Verdun

BERLIN, June 9.—The French have been driven out of several positions northeast of Verdun in the course of stubborn fighting, the war office announced today. South of Fort Vaux a French field work was stormed and more than 400 prisoners and twenty-two machine guns were taken.

PARIS, June 9.—German artillery attacks on the forts of Souville and Tavannes, between Fort Vaux and Verdun, are under way, according to the official statement of the French war office today. Souville is on a line direct from Fort Vaux, now held by the Germans, to Verdun. Tavannes is about a mile southwest of Souville. Fort St. Mihiel stands between them and Verdun.

There were no infantry attacks on either bank of the Meuse yesterday, says the statement. Artillery actions of greatest violence are in progress virtually all along the Verdun front, with the greatest concentrations at Avocourt, Puzos and Champetres.

have ever had."

Kentucky seconded Fairbanks' nomination, as did Maine.

For Nebraska, Howard Baldridge urged that the West be given a place on the national ticket and that Elmer J. Burkett of Nebraska be chosen.

Burkett, Baldridge said, was conservatively progressive.

Nevada, next on the roll, yielded to West Virginia, but the state was passed temporarily.

New Jersey seconded Fairbanks, as did New Mexico.

When Ohio's name was called Governor Willis said:

"In behalf of the Ohio delegation I rise to second the nomination of a distinguished son of Ohio, a man born in Ohio, a man who met his wife in Ohio, a man who claims in Ohio as his own I second the nomination of Charles W. Fairbanks."

Governor Willis of Ohio withdrew from the Republican contest. Hayes of Indiana withdrew Fairbanks and cast the delegation vote of thirty for Hughes. Wadsworth of New York withdrew Root. Congressman Rodenburg of Illinois was recognized and withdrew Sherman. McCall of Maryland of the Illinois delegation stated that while many of them preferred Colonel Roosevelt they felt it was their first duty to defeat the Democratic party, and pledged his vote to Hughes. As state after state voted solidly for Hughes and others changed to him it became evident that nomination would be practically unanimous.

Samuel Perkins of Washington submitted a motion that Senator Harding be made chairman of the committee to notify Justice Hughes of his nomination and that Senator Borah be made chairman of the committee to advise Fairbanks.

CONVENTION ADJOURNS.

In closing the convention Chairman Harding announced that he was advised by a message of acceptance was in process of transmission from Justice Hughes. The chairman told the convention but for some delay in transmission he would have offered the contents of the message by word of mouth, but that it would be given out through the press. Harding congratulated the convention on the choice of Hughes and Fairbanks and then called on Hillis for the final motion of adjournment.

At 2:02 o'clock the convention adjourned sine die.

The Republican national committee was to meet this afternoon to elect the chairman who will conduct Justice Hughes' campaign. There was a strong feeling in the committee that Charles D. Hillis should be elected, but that it is a fight for the place, were launched by the friends of Frank Hitchcock, the latter had sufficient power in the committee to land the post. Hitchcock said he was not a candidate. If this were true, committee men said, Hillis will be re-elected.

Chairman C. D. Hillis of the national committee said:

"Six months ago I said the nominee would be born in the convention and he was."

Frank Hitchcock said:

"I am very much gratified at the course. It means a reunited Republican party and victory in November."

Senator Penrose said:

"I'm too busy to talk."

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Colonel Roosevelt's daughter, was on the platform when the nomination was made.

While the Hughes demonstration on the floor was enthusiastic it was orderly. Marching delegates choked the aisles bearing state standards. While it was on the floor, the delegates talked about recessing until 3 o'clock.

FAIRBANKS NOT CERTAIN.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 10.—Charles Warren Fairbanks said this afternoon that he had not yet made up his mind whether to accept the nomination as Vice-Presidential candidate made by the Republican convention, Fairbanks' statement may not come today.

TAPT APPROVES.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Former President Taft this afternoon said: "Justice Hughes' nomination by the Republican convention has my unqualified approval and it is up to the delegates to refuse the Progressive nomination for the good of the country."

CONVENTION FAIR-TO FAVORITE SONS

G. O. P. Demonstrates Wealth of Material in Its Ranks.

By JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND.
(Special Despatch to The Tribune.)

CHICAGO, June 10.—The delegate seeking real convention thrills was not disappointed yesterday. There was intense excitement from the moment Chairman Harding's gavel fell a few minutes after 11 until the great convention adjourned at 9:30 last night. Not alone did the delegates evince keen interest in the Republican convention, but they were equally curious as to the doings of the Progressive gathering, where Governor Johnson of California, leader of the radical wing of the Bull Moose, was assuming the delegates "that whatever happens you and I, my friends, will preserve the Progressive party."

ENTHUSIASM GREAT.

Republican enthusiasm was unbounded. Good nature prevailed. The enthusiastic friends of every favorite son candidate were accorded ample opportunity to give full vent to their pent-up enthusiasm. There was fervor in the great demonstrations and the brilliant oratory was worthy of the historic occasion. White-faced delegates today the favorites will all admit that they had their lining. The leading candidates were treated generously by the cheering crowd that packed the Coliseum.

Even Colonel Roosevelt was given a great demonstration when his name was presented. While it came mostly from the galleries, filled with Chicago citizens who have already admired the Colonel, it nevertheless pleased his friends and temporarily, at least, filled the Bull Moose convention with hope that Republicans were about to nominate their idol.

The best speeches in my judgment were those delivered by Nicholas Murray Butler, who placed Root's name before the convention; Governor Willis of Ohio, with whom I served in Congress, and who named Burton, and former Congressman Kendall, who lauded Senator Cummings.

Yesterday demonstrated to the convention and showed the country that at least one of the great parties can boast of a wealth of material from which to choose a President. This is reassuring.

WOMAN SHERIFFS.

When Root was nominated a lady in the gallery back of the speakers platform emitted at regular intervals the shrillest shrieks I have ever heard. Her yell had a thrill all its own. It heard in the silliness of the night any man with red blood would have rushed to the rescue. She was the cynosure of all eyes. It was taken for granted that Root must have at some time won her undying admiration. Later on, however, when she let go the same yell at the mention of the name of Roosevelt we suffered a shock to learn of the fickleness of her affection. But she afforded amusement.

Balloting last night resulted about as expected, although some of the Hughes supporters had hoped the jurist might be nominated on the second ballot. It developed that Roosevelt had thrown out the hint that if no choice were made on the first two ballots he might divulge his attitude toward the rescue. She was alone other than himself. Such a proposition Republicans have always been willing to consider.

The California delegation was far from united. It complimented a number of favorite sons who have assisted in the California campaign, its main support, however, being divided.

WEIGHTY PRISONER.

TIPPECANOE, O., June 10.—Harry McDonald, who has been placed in the county jail, weighs about 400 pounds. He is the largest person who has ever been arrested in Tippecanoe. He was brought here by Sheriff Bare from the Michigan City, Ind., Penitentiary, where he had been serving time for horsestealing. The sheriff met him at the gate and arrested him on the charge of stealing a horse and buggy several years ago from Duffy Bros. livery barn in Fostoria.

Republican Nominee Outlines Principles

man Harding of the Republican National Convention, finally accepting the Republican nomination for the presidency:

Following is the message:

Mr. Chairman and Delegates:

I have not desired the nomination. I have wished to remain in the background. But in this critical period of our national history I realize that it is your right to summon and that it is my paramount duty to respond. You speak at a time of national emergency, transcending merely partisan considerations. You voice the demand for a dominant, thorough-going Americanism, with firm protective upholding, national essential to your peace and security; and to this call, in this crisis, I cannot fail to answer with the pledge of all that is in me to the service of our country. Therefore I accept the nomination.

COURSE VACILLATING.

I stand for the firm and unflinching maintenance of all the rights of American citizens on land and sea. I neither impugn nor discourage our efforts to appropriate and discharge our plain duty to our own citizens. At the outset of the administration the high responsibilities of our diplomatic intercourse with foreign nations were subordinated to a conception of pacifism requirements and the presentation of the world a humiliating spectacle of ineptitude. Debatable efforts have not availed to recognize the influence and prestige so unfortunately sacrificed and brave words have been stripped of their force by the decision. I desire to see our diplomacy restored to its standards and to have these advances; to have no sacrifices of national interests to partisan expediency; to have the first ability to our country always at the command, here and abroad, in diplomatic intercourse; to maintain firmly our rights under international law; to insist steadfastly upon all rights as neutral and fully performing our international obligations; and by the clear correctness and justice of our position and our manifest ability and disposition to sustain; to dignify our place among the nations.

I stand for an Americanism which knows no ulterior purpose; for a patriotism which is single and complete. Whether native or naturalized, of whatever race or creed, we have but one country and we do not for an instant tolerate any division of allegiance.

IN PREPAREDNESS.

I believe in making prompt provision to assure absolutely our national security. I believe in preparedness, not only entirely adequate for our defense with respect to numbers and equipment in both army and navy, but with all thoroughness to the end that in each branch of the service there may be the utmost efficiency under the most competent administrative leadership. We are devoted to the ideals of honorable peace. We wish to promote all wise and practical measures for the just settlement of international disputes. In view of our abiding interests, there is no danger of intervention in this country. We have no policies of aggression; no lust for territory, no zeal for strife. It is in this spirit that we demand adequate provision for national defense and we condemn inexcusable neglect that has been shown in this matter of first national importance. We must have the strength which self-respect demands, the strength of an efficient nation ready for every emergency.

ECONOMIC FREEDOM.

Our preparation must be industrial and economical as well. Our severest test will come after the war is over. We must take a fair and wise adjustment of the tariff in accordance with sound principles to secure our economic independence and maintain American standards of living. We must conserve the best interests of labor, realizing that in democracy, patriotism and strength must be rooted in even-handed justice. Preventing us we must, unless discrimination and monopolistic practices, we must still be zealous to assure the foundations of honest business. Particularly should we seek the expansion of foreign trade. We must not throttle enterprise, here and abroad, but rather promote it and take pride in honorable achievement. We must take up the serious problem of transportation of interstate and foreign commerce in a sensible and candid manner, and provide an enduring basis for prosperity by the intelligent use of the constitutional powers of Congress, so as adequately to protect the public on the one hand and on the other to conserve the essential instrumentalities of progress.

I stand for the principles of our civil service laws. In every department of government, the highest efficiency must be insisted upon, all laws and programs are vain without efficient and impartial administration.

ENDORSES PLATFORM.

I cannot, within the limits of the statement, speak upon all the subjects that will require attention. I can only say that I fully endorse the platform you have adopted. I deeply appreciate the responsibility you impose. I should have been glad to have that responsibility upon another. But I shall undertake to meet it, grateful for the confidence you express. I sincerely trust all former differences may be forgotten and that we may have united effort in a patriotic realization of our national need and opportunity.

I have resigned my judicial office and am ready to devote myself unreservedly to the campaign.

(Signed) CHARLES E. HUGHES.

President Wilson read Justice Hughes' statement very carefully but did not comment. Secretary Tumulty said it was very weak.

ST. LOUIS READY FOR DEMOCRATS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 10.—Detailed plans for the entertainment of delegates and visitors at the Democratic National Convention here next week have been formulated. Under auspices of the general entertainment committee, in connection with the Business Men's League, delegates and alternates will be taken on an automobile ride on the first day, June 14.

Another afternoon the visitors will attend the ball game. From the ball park they will be taken on a dinner excursion, either on the steamer Grey Eagle or St. Paul. A buffet dinner will be served on the boat.

The Kentucky Society will treat its guests to an automobile ride and a dinner at an inn about twelve miles from the city. Other state clubs have established headquarters, and applications for hotel room and so forth will be taken care of as well as possible. Most of the hotel space already has been taken, but the state organizations, especially the college and university contingent, are buying rooms in all places possible, even in private homes.

College clubs have made arrangements for several receptions during the convention, and have provided several entertainments which will favor of under-graduate days.

The hospitality of St. Louis will be extended, not only to delegates, but to visitors from other states who come here during convention week.

The various civic organizations in the city have been canvassed and to each has been assigned the entertainment of delegates and visitors from a specific state. Members of the various organizations who have automobiles will take the delegates and visitors from the specified states on an automobile tour of the parks and residential streets of the city.

On the night of June 13—the night before the convention—the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York will give an outdoor production of Wagner's Siegfried. This will be staged in Robinson Field, the baseball park of the St. Louis Nationals.

On the night of Monday, June 12, the Democratic national committee and the visiting newspaper men will be entertained at a reception at an inn a few miles outside the city. Automobile transportation will be provided for the guests.

DEMOCRATS OFF FOR CONVENTION

Californians Off in Two Groups to Nominate Wilson for Second Term.

Two groups of delegates to the National Democratic convention are speeding eastward to St. Louis. Lead by E. S. Heller of San Francisco and Isadore Dockweiler of Los Angeles, a party left via the Western Pacific from this side of the bay last night at 10 o'clock, while a second party composed of the southern California delegates went from Los Angeles.

Several northern delegates joined the party at Stockton and Sacramento. Both parties will arrive in St. Louis next Tuesday morning.

The Democratic delegation will have headquarters at the American hotel in St. Louis. The local committee in charge of arrangements is composed of George F. Welch, chairman; William Bedford, secretary of the delegation; and William Hennauer.

United States Senator James D. Phelan will be chosen permanent chairman of the delegation upon arrival in St. Louis. Phelan notified Sidney M. Van Wyck, Jr., yesterday that he and the Bourbon members of the California congressional delegation in Washington will meet the Californians when they reach the convention city.

Among those who went east last night were: W. Bedford, William B. Bunker, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Catts, Charles Culbert, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Curdin, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dallas, Isadore Dockweiler, O. L. Everett, Charles W. Fay, Frank H. Gould, Walker C. Graves, Thomas E. Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hennauer, L. M. Hensel, Mrs. Elsie E. Hensel, Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchings, Miss Marie Johnson, Mrs. Little and party, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Linder, M. McQuillan, William Madoux, Mr. and Mrs. William J. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. C. Miller, Charles W. McManis, Mrs. Mary McGovern, Walter C. Price, Claude B. Purkitt, Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph, C. A. Storke, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Swart, T. E. Tracy, Russell Usher, George Vlen, R. L. Walton, Murph J. Welch, George F. Welch, T. Wiercwer, William F. Young.

CHICAGO, June 10.—A special train bearing prominent Chicago Democrats will leave here today for St. Louis and will arrive there during the afternoon. The party will include practically all the Chicago Democratic delegates and many county officials who will promote the campaign to have the name of Roger Sullivan of this city placed on the Democratic ticket as vice president, to run with President Wilson. Cook county delegates to the convention will go with the campaigners. The Sullivan-McGrath club will go to St. Louis in large numbers on special trains Tuesday.

West Virginia Primary Results Yet in Doubt

WHEELING, W. Va., June 10.—Several of the Republican primary contests of last Tuesday were still in doubt today, but with only a few districts missing, Judge Ira E. Robinson of Grafton has a lead of 2336 over Attorney General A. A. Lilly for the governorship. For the Democratic senatorial nomination, Congressman Howard Sutherland has a plurality of 2508 over William F. Elitz of Huntington.

The Republican congressional nominees are: First district, Thomas W. Fleming, by 685 votes; Second, George M. Dowers, by 750; Third, Stuart F. Reed, by 2231; Fourth, H. C. Woodward, by 3147; Sixth, Radin, by 1160, without the vote of Canawha county complete.

EXPECT T. R. TO ACCEPT NOMINATION

In which he suggested Senator Henry Cabot Lodge as a compromise candidate and this is thought by his friends to preclude his approval of Justice Hughes' nomination, especially as the latter failed to make known his position on the question of the so-called hyphenated vote in advance of the action of the Republican convention.

Oyster Day is waiting with interest word from Justice Hughes, but it is not believed that any statement coming from the Justice will change Colonel Roosevelt's attitude at this time.

ROOSEVELT'S TELEGRAM.

Roosevelt's telegram to the Progressives said in part:

"I understand you are to have your last conference today with the Republican conferees, but that your committee has not settled on a second choice. For months I have thought of this matter and tried to find a common standing ground by which we can express our Americanism."

"As far as my soul is known to me, I make my appeal to the Republicans and Progressives now in Chicago. In this spirit I appeal to you Progressives to help in this. I appreciate your loyalty to me and I realize that this loyalty is a loyalty to principles for which we both stand."

SUGGESTS LODGE.

"In view of the existing conditions I suggest the name of Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. He is a man of the highest integrity and the broadest national spirit; he has a close knowledge of our naval affairs and understands and supported preparedness in upbuilding the navy and the army, and protection of the Panama Canal."

"He has stood for the progressive legislation like the pure food law, the labor bureau and other laws. 'If you do not agree with me, please lay this telegram before the Republican and Progressive conventions.'"

"Let me recall what I said in my telegram of yesterday to Mr. Jackson of Maryland."

Here Roosevelt repeated that part of the Jackson telegram on nationalistic. He concluded:

"I believe the nomination of Lodge will meet the vital needs of the nation and I ask you to make that nomination in the name of our common Americanism be done."

(Signed)

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Governor Johnson accordingly this afternoon telephoned Colonel Roosevelt urging him to make a statement immediately accepting the Progressive nomination for President.

WHITE HOUSE HAS ELECTION BULLETIN

Special Wire Carries Results of Republican Ballots in Convention Hall.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Results of the balloting at Chicago were received at the White House last night by special wire, but President Wilson did not see the dispatches until late at night when he returned from the theater. Then he went over them carefully, together with many personal messages from Democrats leaders on the ground matching the republicans when they reach the convention city.

During the day the president spent several hours working on the draft of a platform he is preparing for submission to the Democratic convention at St. Louis and various planks also were discussed in detail at the cabinet meeting.

Senator Walsh of Montana, who will be the Montana member of the resolutions committee at St. Louis, also worked during the day on plans for the platform. He said every effort would be made to keep the platform as short as possible. A debate on suffrage is expected in the resolutions committee, and most Democratic leaders here believe votes for women will be approved, but a declaration made that the question is one for the states to decide. It is not expected that a prohibition plank will be included.

The president is expected to make known his selection for chairman of the Democratic committee tomorrow or Monday. Several committees have been suggested for the place, including Messrs. Cummings of Connecticut and Marsh of Iowa.

To dispose of widely circulated reports that he might be chosen chairman, Secretary McAdoo issued this statement last night:

"I have repeatedly stated that under no circumstances would I accept the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee. This is final."

RUSS DRIVE IRRESISTIBLE IN FEROCITY

Austrians, in Big Flight, Lose 5500 Men and Cannon

Slav Advance Said to Be Without Military
Parallel

PETROGRAD, June 10.—The war office announced today that continuing their success in Volhynia and Galicia, the Russians have captured 97 officers and 5500 men in addition to the total previously announced. Eleven more cannon have been taken. Along the whole front General Brusiloff is using the younger men of his forces. They are eager for the task, charging in the face of the fiercest Austrian fire. Where the defenses are high, where the wire entanglements are thick, and where spiked pits have been prepared into which charging men tumble and are impaled, the aggressors are using planks and sapling ladders.

Frequently the men go through, gaining 300 yards in a single effort. In places they have encountered as many as twenty lines of wire entanglements. In all the charges their support from the Russian artillery is perfect. As the infantry whistles through the engineers follow, building corduroy roads to facilitate the advance of the artillery.

HEAVY GUN FIRE.
The victories are attributable largely to the avalanche of kunifer, which swept away dozens of lines of entanglements and opened the way for the troops, who swept through in irresistible number. In some places the Russian barrier fire cut off large Austrian units, which surrendered. This accounts for the large number of prisoners officially reported captured.

The operation began in the vicinity of Olyka, where skirmishing has been frequent lately. Both sides appeared to have been feeling for a weak spot in their opponent's line. The Russian advance from this point, which is twenty-five miles from Lutsk, was accomplished in two and one-half days. During the long period of inactivity the Austrians constructed strong fortifications in this section. The topography of the country also formed strong natural defenses.

Military observers regard the operation as an extraordinarily brilliant achievement, and emphasize the able leadership of General Brusiloff, who conducted the Carpathian campaign and made a record for prisoners, guns and ammunition captured.

Lutsk is an important link, strengthening the connection between the southwestern region and the northern section, and the possession

HUNDREDS LOST ON TROOP SHIP

Austrian Submarine Sinks Big Italian Transport; Loss Heavy.

ROME, June 10.—The Italian transport Principe Umberto has been torpedoed and sunk in the lower Adriatic, with a loss of a large number of soldiers, according to an official statement issued by the admiralty today.

The steamer, accompanied by two other transports conveying troops and war materials and escorted by destroyers, was attacked by two Austrian submarines. The Principe Umberto sank a few moments after being struck, and although prompt help was extended by the other ships, it is believed half the troops on board have perished. The exact loss has not yet been established.

JUSTICE BURKE DEAD.

of it by the Russians is regarded as a valuable step toward the recapturing of lost territory. The possession of Lutsk is a direct menace to Lemberg, upon which place the Austrians now are massing their forces.

The prisoners captured are said to be chiefly Hungarians and Austrians. They include a very small proportion of Slavs, who are chiefly employed on the Italian front. A Petrograd dispatch to the London Daily Telegraph says:

It is claimed that the victory of the Russians in their great drive between the Pripiet marshes and the Rumanian border is without parallel in military history.

CLAIM JUSTIFIED.
This claim apparently is justified. For the Russians, attacking fortifications, such as never existed before in the present war, have advanced upward of twenty-five miles in less than four days.

This is the maximum of ground gained, but the average advance, it is authoritatively stated, has been from twelve to thirteen miles.

At staff headquarters here, great importance is attached to the expedition, as it is declared that it must have involved the capture of Kolki and the whole triangle formed by that town with Lutsk and Olyka.

This area is of great strategic significance, as it is traversed by one of the really good roads which cross the Pripiet marshes.

RAILROAD COMMUNICATIONS.
Exceedingly important railroad communications along the Austro-German front also have been secured by the Russians.

The prominent military critic, Colonel Shumsky, thinks that a junction between the Austrians and Germans has been cut through. He said:

"Thus the right flank of the Germans and the left flank of the Austrians are exposed."

While leaving the latter without serious line of defense before the upper Bug, east of Lemberg.

The Austro-Germans are not likely to have available reserves sufficient to mend the break in their lines.

KNOWLEDGE MORE SURE THAN LUCK

Depew Failed to Buy 'Phone
Stock Because It Was Toy.

Ex-Senator Depew is fond of telling the story of how he was approached, while president of the New York Central Road, by men who tried to induce him to buy some stock in a new company for the exploitation of a recently invented device called the telephone.

He consulted the president of a big telephone company and was told that the telephone could never be anything but a scientific toy; it had no commercial possibilities.

Not unnaturally he accepted this authoritative verdict as final and did not lend his influence to the prospective telephone company.

That was 30 years ago. Today, as everyone knows, the telephone industry is one of the greatest industries in the world, and telephone companies are minor affairs compared with this colossal industry.

And that such is the case is not solely due to the telephone itself, but largely to the fact that there are individuals who do not suffer from the atrophied imagination that characterized the telephone official who misinformed Mr. Depew, but who were able to see the possibilities in the new instrument before these possibilities had been realized.

People, that is to say, with the rare value of mind called foresight, occupying a portion of that quarter of the brain which with the average individual is left over exclusively to the harboring of midnight.

What is true of the telephone is true in greater or less measure of at least half a dozen inventions of our day and generation which have gone begging because people in general are contented in particular, could not see the commercial possibilities that seemingly should have been obvious enough to anyone with the faintest trace of imagination.

The automobile, the vacuum cleaner, the submarine boat, and the wireless telegraph are cases in point.

THE BELIEF IN "LUCK."
The great difficulty with most of us is that we are like the knight who went in search of the Holy Grail—was forever looking outward into the intricate highways of the body politic, instead of searching in the castle of our own minds.

We entertain a superstitious belief in "luck," and are content to keep on musing, deluded always with the hope that ultimately we must guess right, without endeavoring to improve the quality of our guessing mechanism.

The man who is fully and convincingly aware that in the last analysis there is no such thing as luck, and that in the end success comes to him who finds his "guesses" upon concrete knowledge, is a rare and exceptional individual.

So it chances that a thousand men will rush eagerly after a chance to secure a supposed "tip" on the market, where one will delve patiently after the knowledge that makes the "tip" unnecessary.

It is characteristic of our generation, particularly in America, to seek the air route to prosperity, scorning the path that is laid down firm, old-fashioned terra firma. Yet nine out of ten men that attain success have chosen the safe route instead of the spectacular one.

A big Chicago mail-order house, which has attained amazing success in its attempt to furnish its clientele with every purchasable commodity, recently decided to include intellectual wares among its merchandise, and put its decision into execution, by offering a famous set of reference books, confessedly the best of its kind, in a compact edition and selling it at about one-third the regular price of this standard work.

COLLEGE EDUCATION FROM BOOKS.
Nobody doubts that the claim made by educators that half an hour a day devoted to the perusal of this work would presently give anyone something like the equivalent of a college education.

Nobody doubts that the information that could thus be acquired would give the average man distinct advantage over his business competitors in any one of a hundred fields.

Yet all that we know of the lack of imagination of the average individual, his incapacity to take advantage of opportunity, justifies the belief that not one man in ten of those who recognize the value of the intellectual and financial bargain thus offered will take advantage of that bargain.

The publishers of the book have frankly stated that the price must be markedly advanced when this edition is exhausted, owing to the advance in price of paper and other book-making material, which advance, as everyone associated with this line of business knows, has been startling with the past months.

Let the inhibition that hampers the average mind will undoubtedly prevent nine out of ten of the men who have decided to buy the book from acting on their decision until it is too late to take advantage of the bargain price.

The only individuals who can be depended upon to act promptly in taking advantage of a bargain sale are women and the bargains in question are invariably those that have to do with personal adornment of the exterior of the body. The adornment of the interior of the head is a matter of scant significance in comparison.

THE RIGHT KIND OF INVESTMENT.
All of which goes to prove—nothing in particular, except that man is not a very highly evolved animal at the present stage of his development; and that a business firm who hope to put even the Encyclopedia Britannica on a par with household commodities and such like necessities, has shown a very optimistic spirit and placed a flattering estimate upon the desire of the American public to improve its mind. It is sincerely to be hoped that this estimate may be justified, but it is open to certain doubts.

Why worry about the fellow who refused to buy telephone stocks?

Why not rather reflect on the "luck" of the fellow who was wise enough to buy them?

Austrians Caught While Celebrating Russians Bring Grief to Victory Party

LONDON, June 10.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent sends the following concerning the Russian offensive against the Austro-Hungarians:

"Wounded Austrian officers assert that the Russian attacks against their armies were totally unexpected. On the eve of the attack the enemy was celebrating the German victory in the North Sea with champagne and cognac, but the opening of the Russian bombardment ended the festivities."

"From other sources comes the tale of how the Russians seized by surprise an Austrian railway station, with its personnel."

"Fifteen minutes later a military train with troops and supplies arrived and all the Austrians and supplies were captured. An hour later trainloads of shells arrived and fell into the hands of the Russians."

"In one instance virtually a complete Austrian division, including two generals, surrendered. The only person who resisted arrest was a Hungarian sister of a general. She fired a revolver, but was disarmed without difficulty."

B. B. Booth, Deputy Recorder, Is Dead

Deputy County Recorder Bartholomew B. Booth passed away at East Bay hospital at 6 o'clock this morning.

Booth was born at Beltsville, near Hagerstown, Md., and came to California when 18 years of age, first working in Marysville. Subsequently he went to Virginia City, Nev., and was identified with the Comstock mine. A few years later he came to Oakland, where he has resided ever since.

Booth was identified with the Elks, the Moose, the Eagles, the Junior Order and the Carmen's Social Society.

LOOK FOR WOMAN WHO DESERTED BOY

Child Abandoned, Is Taken by Police to County Infirmary.

Search is being made by the police for a woman known as either Mrs. Kline or Mrs. Pyne, who two weeks ago abandoned an invalid boy of two years of age, leaving him in the care of Mrs. Eulalia E. Heald, 2534 Thirty-fifth avenue. The boy is now at the county infirmary, while the police are seeking his mother, who last saw the boy on May 11, when she left the home of Mrs. Heald with her 4-year-old daughter.

There are a number of mystifying features to the case. On May 11 the woman called at the home of Mrs. Heald with the two children and left them in her care. She said her home was at 1926 San Pablo avenue. Not having left sufficient clothing for the children, Mrs. Heald wrote to the San Pablo avenue address, but the letter was returned unclaimed.

On May 29 a strange woman called at Mrs. Heald's home and said that the children's grandmother had died and that she wanted to take the girl to the funeral. She has not been seen or heard of since that time, taking the child away in a motor car evidently in the passenger-carrying business between Oakland and Hayward.

Mrs. Heald reported the matter to the police today and the boy was removed to the county infirmary.

a reason for this somewhere—"The Bohemian Girl" on Monday evening, June 26, will be most interesting. Miss Edith Benjamin is to make her debut as Arline who "dreamt that she dwelt in marble halls." Miss Benjamin is a favorite in society and has sung at any number of amateur affairs. But Arline in "The Bohemian Girl" will be her operatic debut.

MISS VALENTINE FETED DURING HER VISIT.

Mrs. Jack Valentine left yesterday for Seattle, after a visit to the A. A. Moore home in East Oakland, and many entertainments in Oakland, Piedmont and at the country clubs.

One of the parties in her honor was Miss Alice Knowles' luncheon at the Sequoyah Country club last Wednesday. Both Mrs. Valentine and Miss Knowles have won golf honors on the Sequoyah links, and have spent much time there in the interest of their scores.

There was no golf on Wednesday, however, but bridge after luncheon. Some of the guests were Mrs. Wallace Everett, Mrs. Irving Lundborg, Mrs. Roy McCabe, Mrs. H. L. Chase, Mrs. Dan Beldon and Miss Bessie Palmer.

During her stay, Mrs. Valentine quite dazzled her friends with her skill on ice skates. She skated several times at the San Francisco Ice Palace, and like everyone who has learned to balance on the blades, is keen about it.

PIEDMONT SET ON ICE SKATES.

Piedmont society skated this week. At least Mrs. William Ede and Mrs. Clinton Walker skated. The others looked and envied them. Mrs. Jack Valentine, too, skimmed cleanly over the ice one afternoon this week.

Mrs. Ede really skates remarkably well. She has been crossing the bay for morning lessons and on Tuesday afternoon, in a smart blue cloth suit and broad white hat, fairly flew about the rink. She was with Mrs. Oliver Dibble of San Francisco, and Mrs. Edgar Van Bergen, who came up from her ranch in the south to learn to skate.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dibble, by the way, are spending the week-end at the Ede home in Piedmont where there is to be an informal dinner this evening.

Mrs. H. M. A. Miller was at the ice rink one afternoon in a suit of black and white checks almost as large as checker-board squares, and a very broad-brimmed glistening black sailor hat; but she was not skating. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. O. G. Miller, is gracefully proficient and Miss Leslie Miller is one of the stars.

BRILLIANT SEASON AT SUMMER SCHOOL.

The arrival of the Ward Farrons in Berkeley will be preceded by that of the Edgar De Poes. While Mrs. Barron studies economics, the De Poes girls will go in for music and philosophy at the university summer school.

Dashing Miss Elva De Poes is decidedly clever, and her younger sister, Corrennech, is musical. She has just returned from New York, where she studied music during the winter, and her course at summer school will be music. The De Poes, like the Barrons, who are due in Berkeley next Thursday, have leased a house in the college town and will take possession of it the first of July.

Altogether there is promised an unusually brilliant season of summer school this year, at least from a social point of view.

MRS. PANKHURST WAS RESHED BY SOCIETY.

Society quite rushed Mrs. Pankhurst. There was limited opportunity. She was only in Oakland twice, and her stay in San Francisco was broken by a trip south and several lectures. But society did what it could.

Mrs. James Ellis Tucker, who went in for suffrage long before it was fashionable and persuaded many of her friends, gave an informal luncheon for the English visitor who was her guest at the Town and Country club during her visit.

Miss Ethel Moore's tea last Sunday was small and informal, really an impromptu party after Mrs. Pankhurst's speech at the auditorium. But it was interesting. The party motored out to Mosswood park after the lecture and tea was served on the piazza of the tea house. Mrs. Pankhurst said graceful things about California flowers, and especially admired the Dorothy Perkins roses, new to her, that filled a broad basket on the tea table. She wore black that day, a black silk gown with a V of white lace at the throat, and a small black straw turban. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Teixeira and Miss Julia

All of this pleasant hospitality and adulation must have been occasionally contracted in Mrs. Pankhurst's mind with the reception on her first visit to America. Then she was held up at Ellis Island as an undesirable alien!

Times indeed do change, as someone has said.

SOthern's FAREWELL IS MEMORABLE EVENT.

The farewell of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sothern to the stage was an impressive event at the Shubert theater in New York last week. Society and distinguished literary men and women, with many noted players, filled the boxes, "pit" and galleries. Everyone who could crowd into the theater was there.

Sothern played the "sad, mad, glad" Villon in "If I Were King" for the last time, and at the end of the play, spoke his farewell. Then Mrs. Sothern, who, as everyone knows, is Julia Marlowe, left her box to stand beside him on the stage and recite a poem taking leave of the ladies of Shakespeare. A graceful poem which it was announced that evening had been written by a friend. Later Miss Marlowe told that Sothern had written it.

Several years ago, when Sothern and Marlowe played Shakespeare in San Francisco, there was a memorable breakfast for them at the Bohemian club. William Greer Harrison was the host, and forty guests were at the round table that almost filled the red room. It was fairly covered, by the way, with American Beauty roses that were Miss Marlowe's flowers that season.

A San Francisco girl who had the perfectly thrilling pleasure of sitting next to Sothern, told him that she had found some verses of his once in an old magazine and did he write verses now?

"They were the indiscretions of youth," said Sothern. "I outgrew them long ago. But I cannot live them down, it seems." However, they were charming verses. Evidently the actor still considers writing poems indiscreet.

Mr. and Mrs. Sothern are going to England to live. They have scores of friends in California who regret that they may never come this way again.

THE STORY OF A DINNER FOR THE SOTHERNS.

There is another story of the Sotherns in San Francisco. An aspiring hostess asked them to dine. Mrs. Sothern declined for them both amiably, and with regret. There were so many rehearsals, so many performances, and so little time to rest—and they accepted so few invitations.

But the insistent lady continued to implore, and because she couldn't gracefully do otherwise, Mrs. Sothern said that if it were possible they might come, but not to count on them.

The hostess, however, counted on them. With the late William James, she believed that a thought would create a fact, and she had decided they would come. So she asked a score of others to meet her guests of honor, and one of her friends who wrote poems, was commissioned to compose an apostrophe to Miss Marlowe.

The dinner was set for quarter to eight one Sunday evening and at Miss Tyson, on Wednesday afternoon. For this most of the guests, including the poet with his apostrophe, had gathered. But not the Sotherns. Time passed, and finally the unhappy hostess called up the St. Francis and got Mr. Sothern on the telephone.

Had he forgotten? No, he had not, it seemed, and with many apologies, would be there as quickly as a taxi could bring him. Miss Marlowe? He hoped she could come, too.

It was after 9 o'clock before dinner was served to a somewhat subdued party. Sothern had arrived, rather breathless, and alone. Miss Marlowe's place had been arched with flowers, and remained empty like a memorial to some dear departed. The poet, at the prescribed moment, rose and addressed his apostrophe to her empty chair. Sothern was constrained. There were those who believed he had known nothing about the dinner until the hostess telephoned. Still he was charming. But the tragedy of the dinner was discussed for many days.

LUNCHEON FOR ONE OF THE SEASON'S BRIDES.

Miss Effie Kroll's luncheon for her recently acquired sister-in-law, Mrs. Frederick Walter Kroll, was a pretty affair of the week at the Hotel Oakland. Young Mrs. Kroll is a very attractive girl, who was Miss Frances Cooper of Santa Barbara before her marriage. She belongs to one of the prominent families in the south and is a sister of Mrs. Hewitt Davenport of San Francisco and Miss Bess Cooper. The old Cooper home is one of the stately old places in Santa Barbara.

With all the weddings, there were several other events of fleeting interest in society this week. A number of luncheons and Mrs. Harry grill of the hotel where the table was a mass of color. Sweet peas, and some of the other spring flowers with odd names, all of them in pastel shades of pink, blue and filled several baskets. The little futuristic ladies on the place cards repeated the colors, with dashes of black.

Some of the guests were Mrs. William F. Kroll, who assisted her daughter in entertaining; Mrs. Ernest Dwight Chipman of San Francisco, who was one of the Greenwoods and is occasionally seen on this side of the bay with Mrs. A. A. Moore Jr.; Mrs. Clinton Kroll, Miss Ethel Valentine, Miss Dottie Everson, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Bessie Palmer, Miss Christie and Miss Dorothy Taft, Mrs. Frank Hinkley, Miss Christine English and Mrs. Hewitt Davenport.

MRS. MACDONALD A HOSTESS OF THE WEEK.

Mrs. "Gus" Macdonald's bridge party at the Claremont Country club on Thursday was an event of the week. A large affair in the ballroom of the club instead of on the roof garden. The ballroom was divided with a screen of palms, and on one side were the card tables and on the other the tea tables. The side overlooking the golf links was used for a card room and there were a score or more of tables.

After the games the guests wandered to the other side of the screen, for tea, served at large tables, where there were congenial groups of ten and twelve. They were decorated with flowering potted plants, and these were an unusually pretty effect and much admired. Hanging baskets of ferns with potted plants and palms formed the only decoration in the room. There were any number of lovely gowns. It was one of the parties where, for a change, sports costumes were not worn. Instead there were costumes of Georgette and embroidered chiffons. Mrs. Macdonald looked well in a light striped silk effect with a broad gauze hat. Her sisters, Mrs. Edward Lacey, Mrs. Brantley and Mrs. George W. McNear, were there and among the others Mrs. Kendall Morgan, Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. John Louis Lobse, Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Mrs. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Walter Henry, Mrs. Charles Bates, Mrs. Edson Adams and Mrs. William Cavalier.

NEWS OF MEMBERS OF THE SMART SET.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry will sail on June 28 for Honolulu, where they will remain for an extended visit. They will leave their residence in Vernon street and will probably be in the islands until next spring. Mrs. Henry is the daughter of Mrs. George Whitney, and a sister of Miss Anita Whitney. She is one of the popular young matrons of society and there will be farewell teas and luncheons galore in her honor before the 28th.

Mrs. Louis McDermott is greeting her friends at the St. Francis, where she arrived a few days ago from a long visit to relatives in Boston. She has a number of "arresting" costumes that have been admired since her return. Her gowns are always striking. The other day she lunched with several Oakland friends at the St. Francis, wearing a dashing sort of gown of dark blue and white serge with a black hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor, who recently sold their Piedmont home to Mr. and Mrs. John McCandless of Honolulu, are occupying a residence in Kempton avenue. Mr. and Mrs. McCandless and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Halbert, are established in the former Taylor residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rodolph are spending several weeks in Livermore which is near enough for frequent motor trips to Oakland.

CARD CLUBS ARE CLOSING SEASONS.

Another card club closed its season this week when Mrs. Charles Snook entertained the members at luncheon at Mosswood park. After an al fresco feast, the members motored to Mrs. Snook's home where there was a last afternoon of bridge.

Recently the club has been excursions to the country for bridge. One afternoon Mrs. H. K. Jackson entertained the members at her Brookdale place, which involved a week-end party. A few weeks ago Mrs. F. E. Wells had the club for her guest at Carmel, where her pretty bungalow was filled with the members for the week-end.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Snook's hospitality were Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. F. T. McHenry, Mrs. F. E. Wells, Mrs. Arthur L. Adams, Mrs. F. A. Webster, Mrs. Arthur Bred, Mrs. Murray Johnson, Mrs. A. R. Dabney, Mrs. W. W. Crane, Mrs. George B. M. Gray, Mrs. George Perkins and Miss Florence Hall.

THE MEDDLER.

Mrs. Margaret Alverson to Receive Friends

Mrs. Margaret Blako Alverson, the oldest singer in the state, will be 80 years old next Monday. To do her honor hundreds of her and musical associates will give her a reception at the Hotel Gables, Thirteenth and Jefferson streets, from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock on that evening. It promises to be one of the real events in musical circles of the year and among those attending will be many men and women with whom the history of music of the state is closely related.

Mrs. Alverson herself has asked the society to invite many of her former friends and associates who have been seen on rare occasions because of an accident she suffered to her hip, necessitating her remaining indoors. She says in her letter that she is committing to ladies in charge of the affair:

"May I be allowed to ask the privilege of inviting my former and present pupils, all the musical persons who feel kindly toward me, to give a levee to be held on the past twenty-five years and other friends. I also wish to see my former pupils of San Francisco and Alameda county. My accident in 1861 cut me off from the old world and I have since been meeting these pleasant friends and taking up the former associations which were so enjoyable to us all. It is also my hope that the boys in June of 1861 will not forget their acquaintance of the regiment and will extend greetings to their wartime singer of fifty-five years ago, when she first sang to them 'Viva la America' and their beloved 'Annie Laurie'."

OAKS WIN OUT AT WIRE; BERGER'S HIT TURNED TRICK

Ninth Inning Rally Enables Elliott's Hard Luck Crew to Even Series.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10.—Uncovering one of the ninth-inning rallies which made them famous in 1912 the Oaks won yesterday's game from Portland, making their second win of the week. This feat was accomplished through their ability to score four runs in the ninth inning, after Portland had scored two in the half of the seventh. The final score was 4 to 3. Bill Prough and Al Sotheron tangled in a real pitchers' battle and it was only in the seventh inning when the Beavers' rally came.

Southworth started the scoring for the Beavers when he beat out a hit to Barry.

Gulato singled through short and Nixon sacrificed bledgers was purposely walked to first. Kneuche was purposely walked to first but could not get by Chuck Ward, who sent a liner through short that Davis could not get by. The two runs scored.

Middleton batted. Proulx led off the ninth, but flew to Nixon. Davis singled late to center and Kneuche to left, while Lane and Nixon were out. Vaughn hit the first pitch, but Kneuche hit by a pitched ball, forcing in Davis. McCredie shoved out the hook and drew Gardner. Kneuche hit Gardner, forcing in Lane. He walked Gardner, forcing in Coker with the tying run. Elliott sent Berger with a hit for Barry and Joe responded with a hit for him that sent in Lane and Kneoworthy.

Klawitter pitched for the Oaks in the ninth and the Beavers made an attempt to tie the game.

week; but Elliott put a stop to this by sending Sammie Beer in after the Dutch man had walked Southworth. Billy stood second and third. Guleto was out Barbeau & Harry, while Nixon doubled, scoring Southworth and the other lodgers out. Fisher, hitting for Reach, who walked. Stumpf hit on over second for Ward and filled the bases. Speak was an infield out. The score:

Reading the Green

Joe Berger won another game for Oakland when he doubled in the ninth, beating Portland, 4 to 2.

Portland played sloppy ball and won four double plays, but they weren't enough to terrify the Oaks.

Vernon took advantage of Baum's temporary amnesia in the fourth and clouted him for three runs—enough to defeat San Francisco.

Guillermo de Bengala had the ball over forming nicely, fanning the Seals one two, three, in one cant.

Los Angeles made seven errors, still they beat Salt Lake four to three.

Burns led the Detroit drive on the first with two home runs, three hits, triple, double, single.

Clark Griffith's Senators journeyed to Chicago today, where he plans to humiliate the White Sox, who have been idle four days or so out of rain, by pitting Walter Johnson against them.

The Yanks and Browns sessioned 10 innings at St. Louis, Jones' men winning when Sisler's screaming swing scored Miller. It was the Brown's win.

straight win.

An error contributed by Mitchell of the Indians, gave the Senators their first win since May 27.

QUESTION BOX

Berkeley, Cal., June 8, 1916.

To the Sporting Editor: Kindly answer the following through your "Question Box": Tanaka losing two or three "A"s gets up out of town and knocks Home Run. Is he out for batting out of order? (Score-keeper announced correct

Yours sincerely, TEDDY COWAN.
Answer: Man who should have batted in our Summer return to bases and "A bats over again unless there were two out already.

To the Sporting Editor: When was the double umpire system made imperative and why, in the major leagues?
B. C.

The use of two umpires in a game was a gradual development and it was not until 1907 that the major leagues finally decided that two men should be used in each game. Previous to that time extra umpires had been used in some with regulars for several years, while other umpires worked alone. The advantages of the double umpire system are many. As the game grew in speed and strategy, it could not handle a single umpire. The umpire could not play the game. Some shared credit with you that two umpires were required because the regulars were getting so old they could not get around, but you don't have to believe that unless you want to.

POLICE SEEK MEMBER OF TENT CHURCH

Girl Says J. W. Clarke
Contributed to Delinquency

BERKELEY, June 10.—Throughout the state, the police of Berkeley are pressing the search for John W. Clarke, member of the Church of the Living God of this city, of which Joshua Sykes is pastor, assisted by U. W. Deane, an elder in the church and the father of Louise Deane, the 14-year-old girl who accuses Clarke. Today at the home of friends the girl is being cared for while descriptions of the man have been broadcasted by the police.

Sykes declares Clarke was excommunicated from the church, where he had been in occasional attendance. Wednesday night, immediately upon the girl's father furnishing information of her condition, Clarke had worked as a printer for the Church of the Living God press department.

GIRL TELLS STORY.
According to the account given by Louise Deane, Clarke was guilty on four occasions of contributing to her delinquency. She had been permitted to take charge of the children of a friend during the latter's absence and remained for four nights at the house where she was in charge. Clarke had been pressing his attentions upon her for some time previous. She declares he came to the house where she was staying on each of the four nights she was there. This was in April. She denies other occasions.

Wednesday the girl confessed her condition to Mrs. M. A. Ramirez, 2029 Blake street, with whom she is residing. Deane was informed and he immediately telephoned the matter to Pastor Sykes, who called a meeting of the elders and they, at a midnight session Wednesday, excommunicated Clarke. The next morning complaint was made to the police, who held the charge secret until efforts to locate Clarke in this city had failed.

THE DESCRIPTION.
Clarke is an Indian and half American by birth. He is described as being 26 years of age, 5 feet 5½ inches tall and weighing 165 pounds. He has dark brown hair, brown eyes and is of medium dark complexion. He is proud of his Indian ancestry and sometimes wears moccasins. On his left lower arm is tattooed a flower, and on his right arm in the same position his initials, "J. W. C." He is apt to be found in printing establishments, but is also versed in electrical work and as a chauffeur.

Sykes emphatically denies that he is an elder in the church or has ever held the position of importance in that body. He has been a member of the church for three years, during which time Deane and his daughter have been in attendance there. Louise Deane is a rather pretty girl of average development for her age but with very much the appearance of a child. Her father has not permitted her to be interviewed except by the police, in the print shop where Clarke worked at the church colony where printed the circulars containing his photograph and description which are being circulated about the state.

STATEMENT OF SYKES.
Pastor Sykes has issued the following statement:
"John Clarke has been a member of our congregation for three years, but immediately after it was known that he had been guilty of misconduct he was excommunicated. The matter was brought before the elders of the church on Monday last, and he was excommunicated. I feel so strongly with regard to the matter that I personally advised Louise Deane's father to swear out the warrant against Clarke, and I am willing to offer a reward for his apprehension in order that he may be punished if guilty."

"So many slanderous statements have been published regarding the Tabernacle of David that I am determined to take action. The cult was founded by myself in 1899 in consequence of a revelation that came to me and we were first located in Los Angeles. In the year 1913 I had a second revelation in which I was brought in the spirit to the east bay cities and visited the foothills and it was revealed to me that we should move from Los Angeles to the east bay cities. In 1914 we moved to Emeryville, but later found a more convenient location in Berkeley where we arrived May 16, 1914."

INVITES INVESTIGATION.
"Since coming here many of the converts to our faith have moved to this city and I wish to say that they make the best kind of citizens. The foundation of our faith is pure and upright living and we are anxious to conform in every respect to the laws of the community. Our congregation numbers about 300 at present, but since it was founded it has been found necessary to excommunicate over 100 members. I invite investigation and it will be found that neither in Los Angeles nor in Emeryville were any charges brought against us and substantiated."

A warrant has been issued for Sykes, charging him with violation of ordinance.

Y. W. C. A. Girls to Cook Dinner Domestic Science Class to Serve Food

MISS ADELAIDE CLOW, WHO IS ONE OF THE LEADERS OF THE Y. W. C. A. DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLASS.

Local Young Women Experts in Craft of Preparing Dishes to Be Real Chefs

"If we are studying catering, why not get some practical experience?" This is the question the fair domestic science students at the Y. W. C. A. are asking the officers of the institution—and in the near future a dinner, cooked and served by the classes, may be planned.

In the past the dinners at the Y. W. C. A. on special occasions have been brought in by outside caterers. Next Tuesday the newly-formed Business Women's Club will hold a dinner at the Association. This gave the domestic science classes the idea.

The Y. W. C. A. cooking classes are the most complete of any institution on the coast. It is directed by experts. Every branch, from home cooking to catering, is taught by experts. Several girls are taking a full catering course. One of the honor students in this branch of the work is Miss Adelaide Clow of this city, one of the first students in the new Domestic Science Department. She was an extensive exhibitor at the recent show of domestic science products at the Association.

GRAND JURY WOULD HALT SITE SALE

County Body Files a Report Against New Hospital Scheme

Taking an opposite viewpoint to that of the Board of Public Welfare, the grand jury in a report hastily returned in the Superior Court recommends that the new county hospital and infirmary be maintained on the present site near San Leandro instead of segregating the institution by constructing the hospital factor within the city of Oakland.

The welfare board, in a report filed with the supervisors Thursday, recommended that the site of the old Baptist California College in East Oakland consisting of eleven acres be acquired by the county for the new hospital at a cost estimated at $25,000.

JURORS GET REPORT.
With the publication of the report the matter was called to the attention of the grand jury with the result that a meeting was called for yesterday when a "partial" report was made to the court with the statement that the investigation of the institutional factor into conditions at the county infirmary, as recently conducted, would be made at a later date.

The report of the welfare board will come before the supervisors next Monday and at that time the recommendations of the grand jury will also be taken before the board.

That the controversy over the segregation of the hospital and the infirmary is by no means settled in spite of the lengthy deliberation of a committee of citizens over prospective sites is evident from the action of the grand jury in taking prompt steps to present a counter proposition.

Taking the situation as it now stands, the same proposition will now confront the supervisors as in the beginning when widespread difference arose over the suggestion that the hospital factor of the institution be removed to a site in Oakland and that the infirmary be moved to the site of the old Baptist California College, maintained at its present location on 121 acres near San Leandro on the Foothill Boulevard.

NEW HEARING.
Before the Board of Supervisors arrive at a final determination in the matter it is probable that the different factions which hold conflicting views regarding the proposition of segregating the departments of the institution will demand a hearing before the board.

In addition to the California College site which was offered by R. C. Voss, agent of the College Association, there were a score of other sites offered for the consideration of the welfare board. The board finally prescribed a set of directions upon which it would base its judgment in the recommendation of a site. Among other things it pointed out that the hospital should be within the center of a circle which is the center of population of the metropolitan district of the county. The site as recommended proved to be within one block of that point determined upon.

Different factions offered sites at widely different prices and with the matter now before the Board of Supervisors it is probable that those holding opposite views to the members of the welfare board will make a final effort to carry their point.

The recommendations of the grand jury follow:

RECOMMENDATIONS.
1. That the Hospital be entirely separated from the infirmary.
2. That a Medical Superintendent remain in charge of the Hospital and the activities connected therewith.
3. That a Superintendent be employed by the Board of Supervisors, who shall have direct control of the infirmary and its activities and that management shall be separate from and in no way controlled by the management of the hospital.
4. That the hospital building for the housing, care and attention of the hospital patients be erected upon the present property of the Alameda County Infirmary, which is situated on the corner of the intersection of the infirmary buildings as to enable it to be separate and distinct from the infirmary.

This recommendation is made for the following reasons:
a. In the opinion of this Grand Jury, the present site of 12.57 acres is sufficiently large to permit the erection and maintenance of the two institutions upon the same site but under separate managements.
b. That the present site is sufficiently large to provide for the future population, which is constantly extending toward the Hospital, to make it easy of access.

Civic Committee Starts Rail Survey
The special committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, to which has been referred a possible solution for the present problems now confronting the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, met last evening and prepared to grapple with one of the most serious questions that has come before the nine east bay municipalities. The work before the committee will include an exhaustive investigation into the financial and physical affairs of the Terminal Company that will tax to the utmost the time and ability of the committee.

Every effort will be made by the committee to complete its work before the expiration of seven weeks. The committee is composed of the following:
R. A. Fosterer, chairman; George P. Baxter, president, Downtown Property Owners' Association; Hugh Grady, ex-mayor of Piedmont; Charles D. Hingwood, president, Berkeley Chamber of Commerce; H. A. Johnson, representing the Santa Fe Improvement Club; Joseph H. Kinn, president, Oakland Chamber of Commerce; Hon. J. C. Owens, president, Richmond Chamber of Commerce; Dr. George C. Fardeau, ex-governor of California; A. F. St. Sure, City Attorney of Alameda; Dr. Carl Walliger, president, United Improvement Clubs East of Lake Merritt; Harry G. Williams, president, Oakland Merchants' Exchange.

AUTO HIS CONTRACTOR.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Antonio Asorine, of 26 Boardman place, a contractor, was run down by an automobile at Larkin and Geary streets this morning, receiving abrasions and contusions of the body. The driver of the car, J. F. Joseph, of 426 Seventh avenue, took him to the Central Emergency hospital.

ASKS DAMAGE FOR BURNS.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—An overturned boiler of coffee in a cafe at 102 Geary street causing the severe burning of a waitress, Julia H. Anglin, led today to a damage suit against the proprietors, Louis Poeschl and Cecilia M. Lomeston. Miss Anglin asked $5000 as damages for injuries to her head, face and neck.

ROBINSON IS SELECTED BY OSTEOPATHS

Convention Seats New Officers at Informal Banquet

Dr. E. C. Robinson is the new president of the California State Osteopathic Association, the election, last evening, placing in office several local osteopathic physicians. Dr. E. Bertella Ferguson of this city is the new vice-president and the trustees chosen are Dr. H. E. Penland of Berkeley, Dr. C. A. Hains of Sacramento, Dr. Sylvie Bayard of Oakland, Dr. W. Curtis Brigham, the retiring president, of Los Angeles and Dr. E. B. Noble of Oakland.

The new officers were seated last night at an informal banquet in the Hotel Oakland. The session of the osteopaths will close this evening with an informal reception.

Osteopathy "local anesthesia," or rendering nerves insensible by pressure, as against "twilight sleep," or chemical anesthesia, was debated before the session today. Dr. H. E. Penland was the principal speaker on the subject, going into detail as to modes of work, how local anesthesia is obtained, and declaring that the absence of after effects is one of the principal points to be urged in favoring the mechanical over the chemical method.

Today's session, as was yesterday's, was devoted principally to clinical and technical subjects. Dr. J. Van H. Gerding, the celebrated Macon alienist, was heard on the use of habit-forming drugs, which he urged be given by physicians as seldom as possible.

NEED OF CARE.
"I cannot too strongly emphasize the need of care in handling cases indicating these drugs," he declared. "Too frequent use of them, especially toward convalescence, will sometimes lead to a habit that is as ripe as the bud, spells disaster to the patient. This is not theory. It has been proven." The principal part of his address was along technical and medical lines.

Lectures on blood pressure, on spinal lesions, on cancer cases, on sciatica and other general topics occupied the morning. This afternoon the discussions were opened with discussions of emergency practice, various surgical methods, beside diagnosis and general topics. Clinics were held morning and afternoon.

That the "Tired Business Man" is more often nothing than a tired stomach inside of an otherwise sound man was the declaration of Dr. L. Van Gerding, in a discussion of neuritis, which he characterized as "The tired business man's disease." He suggested a diet of milk as the proper procedure in many cases. A contrary life and too rich food, he declared, could work havoc with a business man.

OVERWORKED BRAIN.
But as to neuritis proper, he declared, the treatment must be vigorous. He told of overworked brain workers being in dangerous conditions through this disease of brain fog, outlined methods of treatment, along osteopathic lines, as used in practice as an alienist, and discussed at length varying phases of the trouble.

Special clinics yesterday showed the various skin diseases and other general medical and surgical disorders.

Last night the osteopaths met for their annual banquet, served at the Hotel Oakland. This was followed by an informal dance.

One of the technically interesting features of the convention was the exhibition, by Dr. Harry W. Forbes of Los Angeles, of a child which had undergone two operations after the Lorenz fashion, for hip trouble. The operations were identical with those the famous European surgeon performed on the daughter of J. Ogden Armour, save that both hips were worked upon. The child, it was declared, will recover, with a perfect result.

Longshoremen in Wage Conference Men at Work on Wage They Demanded

Conferences at which the new longshoremen's wage scale will be drafted began today at the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange, under the direction of Federal Mediator White. Representatives of the employers and employees were present. It is expected the work will require perhaps a month.

In the meantime, all longshoremen on the Pacific coast are back at work under a truce agreement, receiving the wage they demanded, pending a final settlement. They said they would continue on a strike, however, and the river boats are idle. The lumber trade is affected seriously.

The waterfront Employers' Association and the lumbermen held sessions during the day. One hundred San Francisco teamsters were laid off today by lumber companies.

MARION LAMBERT EXAMINED POISONS

COURTROOM, WAUKESHA, WIS., June 10.—The theory that Marion Lambert, 18-year-old Lake Forest high school girl for whose murder Will H. Orpet, University of Wisconsin student, is on trial, committed suicide as contended by Orpet, was strengthened today by the discovery of a witness who, it is said, saw Marion in the high school laboratory examining various poisons the day before she was found dead in Helm's woods.

The witness is said to be Jack Vercoe, classmate of Marion, and son of A. W. Vercoe, Highland Park banker. Vercoe, according to the story, found the girl alone when asked what she was doing she appeared worried, and begged him not to mention having seen her. His story was not learned until he told it to a person sitting next to him at the trial. Attorneys for the defense declare they will subpoena Vercoe.

State's Attorney Dady was reprimanded by the court for allowing Orpet's love letters to Marion to be made public.

Gossip Is Cause of Suicide Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Oppressed with debt and humiliated, she says, by the circulation of gossip about her on the part of a half-dozen persons, including a prominent local society woman, Miss Margaret Jensen, attempted suicide this morning. She rented a room at 3151 Van Ness avenue, turned on the gas and swallowed chloroform. She was discovered soon after and taken to the Central Emergency Hospital. "She will recover."

The reasons for the attempt on her life was given in a note addressed to Chief of Police White.

BUTTE FACES STRIKE

BUTTE, Mont., June 10.—The Butte teamsters' union vote last night to go on a strike next Monday morning if the teamsters' demand of 50 cents per day increase is not granted. As the employers' association already has voted not to grant the increase, it is taken for granted that a strike will ensue. It is estimated that about 600 teamsters will be affected, which will make more than 2000 union men out on strike.

Special clinics yesterday showed the various skin diseases and other general medical and surgical disorders.

Last night the osteopaths met for their annual banquet, served at the Hotel Oakland. This was followed by an informal dance.

BENJAMIN WILL FACE LIFE TERM

Mysterious Prisoner Addresses Own Plea to Jury

Judah Benjamin, the mysterious stranger who was convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury in Superior Judge Ogden's court last night for shooting Police Officer Robert Hughes last February will be sentenced Monday to life imprisonment if the recommendations of the jury are carried out.

Benjamin made a plea for his life, addressing the jury at the conclusion of the arguments of counsel. "The court has made the statement that the defendant in this case is a lunatic and not mentally balanced," he said. "I wish to return the compliment and throw in Elsenheim, the jury and the other witnesses. I did not shoot Robert F. Hughes and there is no evidence that the man who did shoot him committed a crime."

SAYS ARREST ILLEGAL.
"In regard to my arrest in San Francisco, Policeman Hughes had no right to arrest me."
Benjamin then read from the statutes, quoting the law covering the powers of police officers to arrest persons in the street.

"I was suspected of begging on the street. I say I was not begging but only dressed poorly. It was also said that I was guilty of a misdemeanor for attempting to resist an officer when hit over the head. One may defend oneself when hit over the head by a burglar, but not when hit over the head by a policeman."

"They say the defendant in this case defies law and order and that the statutes are not good enough for him, but there is no law in the statutes, which is contrary to Christianity."

The defendant quoted from the Bible, giving the law of Moses.

"No jury or judge can condemn a man on laws which they do not understand," he continued reading from Blackstone.

EXPLAINS REVOLVER.
"In regard to why I carried a revolver, I can say that attempts on the life of the defendant by most powerful interests caused me to do so in self-protection. I carried a revolver for many years. I have been in all parts of the United States, engaged in many businesses, at many times, but no one has ever seen me draw the gun."

"I have been imprisoned in jail by the slaves of Hiram Johnson. This defendant desires a government of Christian elders of people and not a government of women, children and lunatics, under the name of Progressive government."

"This defendant also desires the government of California to be gold pure, gold tried seven times in the fire, and not California as a gold brick in the hands of political bunco-stealers."

Benjamin who spoke for a half-hour, stated that the San Francisco Police Officer Hughes, to the effect that he, the defendant, had said at the time he was placed under arrest, "I kill the likes of you," was a falsehood.

It was a week after the shooting of Officer Hughes at Twelfth and Clay streets in Oakland that Benjamin was arrested in San Francisco and drew his revolver on Officer Hughes, it was testified. He was identified by persons who saw him running away from the scene of the Oakland tragedy with a revolver in his hand.

Since his arrest Benjamin, a name believed by the authorities not to be his correct name, has refused to tell anything about his past and although descriptions of him have been sent broadcast with his photograph, he still remains a mystery to the authorities here.

operation was a brilliant success, the candle died at last.

The superstitious might worry if they knew whose candle burned out first, but others, perhaps more skilled in the social amenities, will find a practical solution for the fact that the host's candle gave up the ghost first. The host's candle was smaller than its brothers.. The manufacturer probably took a chance in evading the pure food law and the provisions of the weights, measures and seals law and threw in one small candle to increase the retailer's profit. The host had to take the small candle.

Bitter Letter Read in Alimony Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Two letters, one filled with the undying words of a past love, the other bitter denunciation of that same love, both written by Major Hugh Matthews to his former wife, were read in the court of Superior Judge James M. Trout yesterday. The letters were introduced by Attorney Algonzo Crofton, counsel for Mrs. Matthews, when Major Matthews, through his attorney, R. F. Morgan, applied to Judge Trout to reduce alimony from $125 to $50 a month.

One of the letters read was written a week before their marriage and the second ten years later. Regarding the plea to reduce the alimony, Major Matthews testified that his former wife was better off financially than he, holding considerable property in North Carolina.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT CAUGHT AND KILLED

Brother of Victor Sandoval to Be Executed for His Many Crimes.

CHICAGO, June 10.—General Luis Herrera today reported from Parral the capture of Victor Sandoval, a notorious bandit leader, in the Provincia Valley, together with four companions, one of whom has been shot and another is being held by the authorities. Sandoval was shot immediately by his captors and an announcement was made that his brother, Luis, now confined in Parral, is to be executed "for the public good."

A number of citizens today publicly demanded that Luis Sanchez Mena, charged with attempting to enlist Mexicans to co-operate with the Americans in the event of intervention, be hanged over for "summary justice." Military authorities, however, denied the plea, holding Mena for court martial that he may have an opportunity to vindicate himself.

No reports had been received today from General Herrera and his associates who have been dispatched in pursuit of a large band of outlaws south of Parral.

Blue Bird Bureau

A real good little eleven-year-old boy is looking for a home. His mother has just recently been deserted by her husband, and the present conditions are such that she is forced to break up home life and seek work. Now, the mother, by the way, already has been promised a position as housekeeper, but she does not like to leave her little son alone all day, so she is looking for some nice family who will be willing to keep him. She, at the present time, is not able to pay over $15.00 a week for his board, but thinks that a little later on she can pay a little more. The boy is perfectly willing to run errands and do whatever he can to help pay for his keeping.

Someone will surely be glad of this opportunity to have a nice, good, clean boy in their home, and we are convinced that he will prove very much more of a blessing than a burden.

We shall be glad to hear of a good home for this boy very soon, for the mother does not want to begin her work as housekeeper until her little son has found a home.

Here comes another case of a woman having been deserted by her husband. This time it is the mother of three children. The husband just disappeared one day over a year ago, and she has never heard a single word of or from him. She has that little child and depends upon the little that she can earn from sewing for the support of herself and three children.

A great handicap which she suffers in the way of making her living, is that she is very near-sighted. It is difficult for her to make much in the line of sewing, for everything that she does must be held very close to her eyes and this prevents her from sewing quickly and well. However, she does plain sewing very nicely, and anyone who has anything in the line of plain sewing to do and is willing to give her a trial, we are sure that they will be perfectly satisfied with it.

The fact of the matter is that this family is hungry a great part of the time. The mother is not able to make enough from her sewing most of the time to keep food on the table. She has that little child and three children, and will not listen to the idea of placing her children in homes. She says that she does not want to live any longer when she has to give her children up.

I wonder if we couldn't collect a few dollars or so with which we could send her a grocery order. It would help her some, for she is way behind on her rent, and the little we could save her on groceries could be applied on the rent.

If anyone has any plain sewing to be done, why not give her a chance? Assistance in any line will be appreciated.

A grandmother who lives not far from here has just a little more than her hands full in the way of bringing up three boys. Her daughter died a short time ago, and as the boys are all young and unable to do anything yet for themselves, the responsibility of taking care of them and bringing them up, fell on "Grandma."

The father of these children is out of work and is anxiously looking for a job every day. So far he has been like hundreds of other men who are out of work right now, unable to find work. Therefore, there is nothing coming in, but just the same, these three hungry boys must be fed and clothed.

The ages of these boys are 12, 8, and 7 years, and they are all in need of shoes. That is all that "Grandma" is asking for. If she can get one pair of shoes each for her three boys, she will be over so grateful.

We surely can do that much for her.

Scandinavian Singers

in Festival Tomorrow

Musical critics of the bay counties are eagerly looking forward to the great mid-summer musical festival which will be staged at Idora Park tomorrow under the auspices of the United Scandinavian Singers, including members of the local Swedish, Danish and Norwegian singing societies.

Helmer's masterpiece "Olav Trygvason" will be given full voice and one hundred well-trained male voices will be in the grand choruses. Carl Edwin Anderson has been announced as the principal soloist.

The musical program will be preceded by games and dancing. The following program has been announced:

Overture.....Orchestra
"Landkjenning".....Grieg
"Hear Ye, Hear Ye".....Grieg
"Hole Nord".....Grieg
"Soldiers' Chorus".....Grieg
"Solley".....Grieg
"Star-Spangled Banner".....Key

An augmented orchestra, under the direction of Professor Axel Philstrom, will accompany the numbers.

Japan Augmenting

Troops in Peking

TOKIO, June 10.—Japan is augmenting her troops at Peking, which was withdrawn by one battalion, which was withdrawn from Daien on the Liao-Tung peninsula near Port Arthur.

A despatch from London Thursday gave a report from The Times that American troops at that place had been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Peking. The despatch added that French troops from Annam had been sent to Peking. The troop movements probably indicate the withdrawal of the Japanese following the death of President Yuan Shi Kai.

Weils-Fargo Transfers

Two Local Agents

A. H. Peterson, who has been the general agent for the Wells-Fargo Express company in this city for three years, has been transferred to Portland, Ore., to occupy the same position in that district. Peterson during his residence in Oakland was quite active in the Chamber of Commerce and also in the Rotary club and accompanies the delegation to Spokane from the advertising bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Peterson will be succeeded by C. H. Campbell, who has been the Berkeley agent for Wells-Fargo company for four years. This transfer is effective at once.

Advertising Bureau

Goes North Tonight

The advertising bureau of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce will leave here tonight for its trip to Spokane, stopping at several of the stations en route. An official call will be made upon Governor Withcomb of Oregon at Salem.

The party is to arrive in Spokane at 4 p. m. Wednesday and will attend the opening session of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's association.

THE BLUE BIRD FOR HAPPINESS.

"Heads up, work hard, keep smiling and lend a hand"—that's the motto of the Blue Bird Bureau. The TRIMMINGS Department of Good Fellowship. To show people who are willing to help others just how to go about it without putting a tax on any one, to provide happiness steadily without publicity, to make life brighter and give childhood its birthright—that is the purpose of the Blue Bird Bureau. It interested. Home Lakeside 5000.

for what boy hasn't an old pair of shoes that he has outgrown or partly worn out, and would not be willing to give them to such a good cause as this.

The boys' feet are just about on the ground, and unless some Good Fellows come to their assistance, they will be forced to go barefoot before long for the shoes they are wearing now will not last much longer.

The following proposition may look very attractive to some man or school-boy:

A large sunny basement room is at the service of some elderly gentleman of temperate habits or a schoolboy, in return for a little gardening and the sweeping of the back porch. This room is cozily furnished, and to some man or boy who is striving to get ahead, this ought to be of considerable benefit to him, for there will be no rent. It is very close in to the business section of Oakland, and is within easy walking distance.

We shall be glad to give further particulars to any man or boy of good habits.

Mrs. C. S. Corbridge. More magazines await you at this Bureau. Will be glad to tell you about stove when you call.

T. W. C. Alameda: Packages received O. K. They will be sent to the family you mentioned.

MANUFACTURER'S NEWS

BERKELEY OAKLAND RICHMOND

BIG BUSINESS COMES TO BAY CITIES' FACTORIES

Month of June Starts Off With Increased Activities in All Lines of Manufacture Represented in This District

Oakland is now entering that era of the greatest industrial expansion ever witnessed and this growth seems destined to continue. Conditions in eastern manufacturing centers have changed. Labor is obtaining better prices throughout the country. The manufacturer who obtained his raw wool, cotton, tomatoes, malt, cream of tartar, dried milk, chemicals and the hundreds of other necessities in California, then shipped it back again after being manufactured, is learning the wisdom of coming to the point of supply, making his product and shipping the finished article to the consumer.

The day will come when every needed article will be made here—shoes, underwear, hosiery, corsets, tracks, files, plows, reapers, clothing, umbrellas, collars, printing presses and all the rest.

Every California resident may hasten the day by showing preference for California made merchandise. Learn what is made here and when quality and price is equal demand this merchandise. California's natural resources must be developed.

Oakland is the starting point for all Central California automobile tours.

Four electric signs are under construction for shipment to Mexico by the Bradshaw Electric Company.

The California Paint Company of Twelfth and Pine are now running night and day forces trying to keep up with orders.

Five hundred more iceless coolers are under construction at the Hammer-Bry factory, giving employment to a considerable number of mechanics.

Spott Brothers have completed the entire re-arrangement of their factory and office, including two display rooms in ivory and old rose and ivory and tan.

The Don Henson shipyard have started their plant at the Hammer-Bry factory, giving employment to a considerable number of mechanics.

The W. R. Sibbett Company, 550 Poplar street, have closed several contracts for the manufacture of new material for their recently added facilities, to work up to full capacity.

The early establishment of a factory to cast radiators is announced by T. N. Burman of 421 6th street. The factory will be established in Hayward where a building suitable to the purpose is to be had.

Two carloads of ground, calcined magnesite were shipped East this week and several tons of prepared asbestos from Shasta County mine to Los Angeles and Seattle for the use of the John D. Hoff Asbestos Co.

Three steel steamers are under construction at the Moore-Scott yards, one of 700 tons for O. Anderson and Company of New York and one of 700 tons for the U. S. Navy. The third boat of 10,000 tons is for the Huartepec Petroleum Company.

In a bulletin from the department at Washington, there are listed some 350 lines of manufactured products covering all waters made in the various states in Alameda county 233 of these lines are covered, while many of the other various lines are possible to be made in the Eastern States.

Data has been gathered by the Alameda County Commission showing more than ninety points of interest in the county which will appeal to tourists and visitors. It is intended to publish this data in booklet form for general distribution and include maps, instructions and suggestions valuable to those who will care to visit them.

Schenck, Holmstrom & Pedgrift of Sixth and Jackson, have been awarded a contract for the new Alameda County Jail, to be located on the corner of Eleventh and Second streets. The work was actually started last Monday on the first and second floors. The building of considerable size. Another contract by the same firm is the rebuilding of the Alameda County Jail, recently destroyed by fire.

The Deak Gas Engine Factory at Fourth and Madison is working overtime to produce a large quantity of gas engines for export. One car of mining machinery was routed to Canadian points, and another car of machinery to the coast and a special 100-horsepower engine is ready to ship to Point Conception to be used in the compressing of air for the Government. The work here is being pushed by the Government at various points.

Machinery is en route and being installed in the new plant of the Parham Paper Company at the Alameda side of the Park street bridge, for active operations to begin by July 1. This factory represents an investment of $20,000 for equipment alone, purely local capital. Some twenty men will be employed at the new plant. This factory is the only one of the kind on the western hemisphere, as the paper to be made was heretofore produced only in Germany by a secret process and was much cheaper. It is planned to supply not only the United States, but also Canada and although the product is similar to the German make, it can be made here much cheaper. That at the close of the war the established trade will remain. C. M. O'Connor will be the general manager.

So much has been printed about the saving of waste paper that the public generally will be interested in the prices quoted for this material. Common newspapers, when wrapped in convenient bundles are worth from 25c to 30c each one hundred pounds. Old magazines and calendars paper and tied in bundles are quoted at 20c per hundred pounds. All wrapping papers are worth 5c to 10c per hundred pounds. Paper for book binding is worth 10c to 15c per hundred pounds. Paper for stationery is worth 10c to 15c per hundred pounds.
